

The Preparation

You have been invited here to receive The Preparation as it has been given through Moriah. This Preparation is being given by the Teachers of Love to guide humanity through the change that is occurring.

Your prophecies tell of radical change, but they do not truly describe the change for which you must prepare. While there are some measures people must take to be able to endure events due to climate change, political change, financial instability, and changes occurring within the human race, these are not the changes for which you must devote your complete attention to preparation.

The change, for which We have come to prepare you, is due to evolutionary change in which interplanetary beings will mix. That is what We, the Teachers of Love, have come to bring.

You are already aware of previous interventions to save humanity. The Teachers whom you have studied and followed including Jesus Christ, Mohammed, and others were those who came to guide you through previous periods in human history when humanity was lost and required additional guidance. Now these religious traditions must join by taking the next step together. Your previous interventions were to help humans access spiritual guidance in order to learn to live together. Now you will receive guidance about how to live with those beings who are not human.

Before We begin the Preparation, We are giving you basic rules to live by. If you do not adhere to these rules, you may perish.

1. Do not invite non-human beings in. Do not pray for them, or to them. Do not allow them access to your mind. They want to overthrow you, manipulate you for their purpose, and take your planet earth for themselves.
2. Do not speak with them. You are being given a Curriculum for the preparation for joining with non-human beings.
 - a. You do not know how to protect your thoughts from them. They communicate telepathically. Until you learn how to protect your thoughts from being read, you are in danger.
 - b. They communicate to one another telepathically, or mind to mind. Until you learn how to understand their communication, you cannot know their intent.
3. Do not allow yourself to be flattered into following them. Human ego may become the cause for the downfall of the human race. Beware of anyone who praises you and encourages you to join their cause. They will not disclose their true agenda.

4. Do not follow those who promise, but will not deliver. Humans have many wants and needs. Your politicians, for example, know this, and sometimes use this to gain your trust. They never had any intention of fulfilling these promises, nor do they have the ability. You have frequently already succumbed to their will. However, the stakes are now much higher. The stake now is human survival.

5. Follow only True Teachers. Moriah is a True Teacher. Most are not. They teach what they have studied, and most is simply a smorgasbord of spiritual samplings mixed together. They are not True Teachers because what they teach is not a True Teaching.

The Preparation being given here is the True Teaching, sanctioned by Love, and given by the Teachers of Love. Love is God, or Allah, or Higher Power. Therefore, these Teachers of Love are True, and are giving this Message through the Messenger named Moriah.

It is so ordained.

Teaching Points from The Preparation

1. Pray for (instead) those who follow Love in all worlds.
2. Do not ask non-humans for help. They will use your vulnerability to their advantage.
3. Do not attempt to communicate with them. Hide your thoughts; be aware of theirs. They are not here to help you. Those who help you are out of sight (as are We, the Teachers of Love).
4. Be wary of anyone who flatters you. They have another agenda.
5. Do not follow any who promise wealth, health, or youth. They have a different agenda and will perceive you as weak.
6. Following Love is for all, but the weak of mind and spirit will be unable and will fall away.
7. Do not dabble in spiritual smorgasbords. Many who teach are not True Teachers. Commit to your spiritual path and purpose, and follow only where it takes you.
8. Have courage. Your Guidance is always available to you. You must learn to receive and follow It, and only It.

We are the Teachers of Love.

Our Message is of Love, ordained by Love, given by Love.

We bring that Message of Love through the Messenger named Moriah.

We have not come to save you. We have come to help you save yourself.

The Teachers of Love are highly evolved beings Who are assisting humanity with the evolutionary changes that are occurring.

We are not here to make predictions; We are here to lead.

Moriah is a human with in-bred capacity to see and understand beyond your current definition of “normal”. What she sees is internal. She is given a world-view from a perspective of being detached, while simultaneously living in your day-to-day reality. A long time ago, she agreed to “bring forth a Message”. She is therefore a Messenger. Her mission in her lifetime is to tell the Message to humans. The Message is timely. To ignore it would put humanity in grave danger. To sensationalize it would be to trample that which is holy. To deny it would be to choose to live in ignorance without adequate preparation.

What is the Preparation to which We refer? The Preparation for joining with those who are not human.

Your “experiencers” know of telepathy. Many report visions and messages given by telepathy. With telepathy, words are not necessary. Entire concepts are “downloaded” or received mind-to-mind. That is how Moriah receives our communication. That is how interplanetary beings communicate.

However, true telepathic communication for which you need to prepare is more than mind-to-mind transmission. It is also mind shut-down. In other words, to know another’s intent is available through telepathy. To refuse to allow others to know your intent requires communication shields. The Curriculum which We will give to you through Moriah will prepare humanity for both.

This is not a personal situation, yet it will require the responsible study by many for your planet to survive. Humans feel ownership of planet earth. Yet, those who come will not recognize humanity’s claim.

Imagine that your planet became inhospitable to human life such as through climate change, pollution, or any number of other possibilities. Now imagine that you are to find another planet that is compatible with human needs. Reverse that image.

Imagine that other life-forms from other planets are in need of a place to inhabit that is compatible, or at least not inhospitable, to their needs. When that possible location is discovered, observed from afar, and inhabited by a few, the information would then reach others. Soon, more would come.

That is the situation with planet earth. Long observed for its great biodiversity, it has become selected as a possible location for those seeking a new home. They have their own culture and ways of relating. They will not come to assimilate; they will come to overpower and control.

This is your opportunity, and responsibility, to save yourselves. You must do these things in order to have a chance for human survival:

1. Learn to communicate telepathically.
2. Learn to shield your thoughts.
3. Note whom to trust. Avoid anyone and any situation that feels untrustworthy.
4. Learn to follow gut instinct. Those who survive evolutionary change are those who adapt by following their original instincts, or those instincts developed throughout the time of human beings.
5. Learn to open your mind and see what is really occurring. Most of what you see is a picture developed in your mind of what you want to see.
6. You do not create your own reality by simply wishing. You create it through opening yourself to Love, and allowing Love to lead you. We will provide direction through Invitation To Love given to you through a Messenger named Moriah.